neterred to the Finance Committee for consideration-Preferred Stock Makes a New High Record -- Directors Reclected.

At the fourth annual meeting of the United States Steel Corporation, held in Hoboken yesterday, several stockholders complimented the officers on their efficient management of the corpostion during the the resolution was unanimously adopted. The attitude of the stockholders was in decided contrast with that assumed at the two previous annual meetings, when shareholders called for an investigation.

One stockholder, Daniel Wolfe, reprelent management, offered a resolution directing the issue of 5 per cent. bonds for an amount sufficient to redeem the outstanding preferred stock. This scheme, to benefit the common stock, has been much discussed before. Chairman Gary that the subject would be referred he finance committee for consideration. Wolfe expressed his confidence in the tors and withdrew the resolution.

The only officers of the company present besides Judge Gary were Secretary Trimble and Attorney Ma Veagh. As a proxy committee they represented about 51 per cent. of the stock. A score of stockholders of the stock A score of stockholders representing a few thousand shares were also present. The chief subject for the stockholders' consideration was the approval of acts of the directors during the proval of acts of the directors during the year 1904. One change in by-laws was approved which provides that the directors may declare dividends from the surplus or from the net profits of the company and fixing the dates for the declaration of dividends on both common and preof dividends on both common and pre-ferred stock. The purchase of the Clairton steel properties was also approved. These properties were paid for with 5 per cent

Eight retiring directors were reelected for a period of three years, as follows: Marshall Field, Daniel G. Reid, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., William E. Corey, Robert Bacon, Nathaniel Thayer, Clement A. Griscom and John F. Dryden.

Steel preferred reached 104% yesterday, a new high record. Sales amounted to 110,000 shares. The common sold at as high a point as any time for several years.

TO CONSCIENCE, ALL BUT $3. Young Man Rids His Bosom of That Perilous

Stuff That Weighs Upon the Heart. A shabbily dressed young man went to give up some conscience money. He other than their own account brought in $130 worth of clothing three years ago, according to his story, and paid duty upon only $100 value. The deputy collector suggested that perhaps the clothing was worth only $100 and that the young man had better not trouble himself unless was very sure.

he was very sure.

"If you are a Christian gentleman, as I hope you are." said the young man, "you will not refuse to take this money."

The official decided that he had better take it, especially as the young man backed up his pangs of conscience with several quotations from the Book of Proverbs. When he had paid he had only $3 left, which he said was all he had in the world.

The influences soverning fluctuations in yesterday's stock market were as whimsical as the weather, which happened to be extremely variable. In the early trading there was a show of great strength in a few stocks, notably St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville, Atlantic Coast Line and and Steel preferred. Other stocks equally prominent were steadily sold. Union Pacific and New York Central were under pressure almost from the outset of trading and the aggressive buying of Illinois Central had apparently subsided. Toward the end of the first hour the irregularity became more pronounced. The market was not uniform in any important phase and the general observation that could be made past year. One of the stockholders offered concerning it was that stocks were being resolution thanking the management, supplied very freely on all advances. In the second hour the whole market broke sharply under a selling movement which was largely of Western origin. On this reaction Union Pacific and St. Paul lost 2 points each and declines through the general list ranged from 15 to 1 per cent. Lafer, under the leader-ship of the Steel stocks, the market rallied senting about 2,400 shares of common stock. Very easily, only to develop reactionary tendenter thanking the officers for their excelencies again in the last half hour. The closing was uncertain, with the United States Steel shares alone showing pronounced strength. Prices in general alternately de-clined and recovered with surprising ease, which was an indication, some thought, of the artificial character of a large proportion of transactions. The outside support is not what it should be. The volume of outside business transacted yesterday was relatively kept the market unsettled during the first half of last week was credited with some further selling in yesterday's session, and it circles that certain speculators were liquidating stocks in order to strengthen their posi-tion on the bull side of May wheat. It was supposed last week that such selling had run its course, and its renewal yesterday, therefore, occasioned some surprise. Always in the past Western Ilquidation after a bull campaign in stocks has revealed a much greater accumulation than Wall Street had reckoned upon, and, although the crowd in question is suposed to have scaled down its commitments heavily in the past two or three months, they may still be larger than is generally sup-posed. The demonstrations made yester-day in Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville and Nashville were referred to the Gates people. and the object of making them was supposed elsewhere in the market. There is reason to believe, however, that the Gates people have been acting recently on both sides of one of the deputy collectors of customs the market for other principals, and some of their selling, therefore, may have been for > Western houses continue to regard the May wheat deal as a sore spot in the general speculative situation.

Up to this time Gates & Co., handling the May wheat deal in Chicago, have distributed the orders to other houses. Several days ago it was reported that they had joined the Clearing House so that they would be in a position if necessary to clear their own trades. It was said at the same time that a number of houses carrying trades for the pool were becoming uneasy and desired wherever possible to transfer their contracts to the real principals. They were unwilling, in other words, to stand in the gap. Yesterday it was heard here with a good deal of interest that Gates & Co. had opened an office for their grain deal and were buying wheat openly campaign began. This brings the fight into the open. Owing to the prominence in the stock market of the same men who are swinging this wheat deal, the outcome is a matter of general Wall Street interest. A very prominent steel man, formerly of the United States Steel Corporation, is commonly rethe weakness of New York Central and the heaviness of Union Pacific throughout the day's trading were not offset by the great strength of St. Paul. The most enthusiastic bull speculation seen this year was that in the seems of the control color of the color rumors of a New York Central-Union Pacific deal to follow the distribution of the Northern Securities Company's assets. Many who were very sure of their information concern-ing such a deal, and who were at the same time holding New York Central stock for 200, are now dubious about it. The stock was reactionary all of last week. The general impression now seems to be that a successful distribution was accomplished above 160. The heaviness of Union Pacific yesterday was especially disappointing because of the prevalence at the close of last week of some very bullish information on the speculative possibilities of the stock for this week. It is still one of the stocks, however, that every-body is warned not to be short of. The others are St. Paul, Northern Securities and

There is no agreement of opinion as to what the position of St. Paul will be after the Northern Securities business is settled up. The bull rumor on St. Paul has been that it would get the Northern Pacific. Some people are as sure of that as they were that there would be a New York Central-Union Pacific deal. St. Paul has been out of line with the most advanced railroad stocks all through the bull market. To be in line with them now it would have to be selling around 200. Speculation in it has not been en-couraged as it has in some other stocks. There has never been the freedom of speculative action in St. Paul, for example, that traders have found in Union Pacific. Very little has been said recently of the unissued St. Paul stock that was authorized a long

It is the theory of bullish observers that in certain stocks the so-called big interests got too much bull company and that efforts was the reason, they believe, for the break on baturday, and also for the weakness yester-day, of some stocks—such as Union Pacific This does not agree with evidences of dis-tribution which have been in some instances

American Smelting on this level, brokers say. The stock has gone much higher than some naiders expected it to go when they sold some inside stock sold in the neighborhood of 90 had to be bought back around 110.

Steel preferred reached a new high record price yesterday, selling at 104%. The common stock sold at 38%. It had sold on April 7 at 38%. It was rather freely supplied yesterday around 38. The trading in the preferred was very heavy. The buying was of a somewhat general character. The advance followed the appearance of a report from the annual meeting describing how a resolution had een offered and favorably entertained calling for a further conversion of preferred stock into 5 per cent. bonds. The speculative in-terpretation of this was that the resolution had been offered with inside sanction. This was the favorable thing evidently which was expected to develop in the course of the meeting. It was rumored a week ago that there would be semething special as a result of this meeting on which to buil the preferred FINANCIAL.
